Narayanganj: A City of History, Trade, Cultural Heritage and Immense Opportunities

Narayanganj, located about 16 km southeast of Bangladesh's capital Dhaka, is a central city with a population of around 2 million. As the oldest and most prominent river port in Bangladesh, it sits on the Shitalakhya and Meghna rivers. With a rich history and culture, Narayanganj was the capital of Bengal during the 16th-century reign of Isha Khan. Visitors can explore various historic and religious sites including the tomb of Ghiyasuddin Azam Shah, Hajiganj Fort, Sonakanda Fort, Kadam Rasul Dargah, and Sonargaon.

Narayanganj City Corporation (NCC) is one of the oldest local government organizations of Bangladesh, formerly known as Narayanganj Municipality was first established in 08 September 1876 in British colonial period. Considering the rich history, cultural value, economic progress & other socio-economic aspects honorable prime minister of Bangladesh declared Narayanganj City Corporation merging the area of Narayanganj Sadar, Siddhirganj & Kadam Rasul municipalities (around 72.43 square km) on 5 May 2011.

Narayanganj is one of the commercial and industrial hubs of Bangladesh. Once upon a time, jute trading was dominant business in Narayanganj. Now the economy has been shifted to readymade garments which is the prime export item in Bangladesh. Moreover, the economy of the city consists of diversified manufacturing industries such as cement, steel, ship building, power plant, pharmaceuticals, textile, hosiery and so on. Moreover, some agricultural processing industries such as wheat, salt, lentil etc. keep significant role in the city economy. Adamjee Export Processing Zone has attracted foreign direct invest and created a huge number of employment opportunities for the local people.

Narayanganj City corporation provides basic services and infrastructure to the city dwellers. The city also provides social services such as health, education and community housing for different stakeholders of the society.

The city has strong focus on green and blue urbanism, community development, climate resilient and healthy life style for making sustainable and livable city.

The NCC has a vision to make Narayanganj a green, clean, modern, and prosperous city that provides a safe and healthy living environment for all its citizens. As part of this vision, the NCC is proactively working to ensure better facilities and improve the quality of life for the citizens. The NCC's work has led Narayanganj to achieve international recognition and awards such as Asian Townscape Jury Award 2016 and LivCom Award 2023 which known as the Green Oscar and Smart City Award. The NCC's innovative approach and development works have played a significant role in the city's transformation and growth. Overall, the NCC is committed to providing efficient and effective services to its citizens and making Narayanganj a model city for the rest of Bangladesh.

Narayanganj City is actively seeking to achieve comprehensive and sustainable development. The city has formed a Friendship City initiative with Naruto, Japan, making it the first city in Bangladesh to do so. The NCC is also open to suggestions and feedback from city dwellers on how to improve its services and performance. The city is reaching out to development partners, international organizations, and countries for support.
